LEMON GROVE REVIEW

The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin

The Screen Finely Sifts

Were it not so grim, the Lemon Grove office of the Sheriff's Department would have cause to celebrate.

They could announce, finally, after five years of trouble and travail, that four young men of a Spring Valley family are safety in jail.

They are brothers, all over 20 years of age.

One is in San Quentin. Another resides at an honor camp. This week, the remaining two brothers were clapped in County Jail awaiting trial.

The four have suffered approximately 70 arrests during a five-year period. These arrests could represent well over 100 charges since it is not uncommon for several charges to accompany each arrest.

Many of the complaints are what officers call "man destroying man" complaints — crimes of violence. They have assaulted men, women and police officers — and even each other. They have used fists, knives and guns. It was a knife that one brother drove deep into the abdomen of another. In this case the victim refused to sign a complaint.

One of the brothers was arrested three different times in two days by different officers for different offenses. In each case he was transported to county jail. The first arresting officer was in the process of completing his report on the first arrest while the defendant was being released from jail on the third charge.

Such antics are expensive to the public. Everyone shares in the cost of the criminal justice system. It takes a lot of manpower to clean up the mess lawbreakers create. Too many officers are tied up by their misdeeds. The arresting officer spends time tracking down lawbreakers, interviewing victims, witnesses and preparing his report on the matter. The defendant is given taxi service to the county jail and a welcoming committee must leave other duties to accept him.

As he adds to the overcrowding of the county jail, officers guard, process records and provide certain housekeeping duties for the guest. All of which is costly to the public.

Meanwhile, the material supplied by the arresting officer is reviewed by a superior officer. If there is anything questionable or irregular, that part of the charge is filtered out. Following the screening, the more solid charges are presented to the district atorney. Another screening takes place. The district attorney doesn't want his case thrown out of court so if there is anything he questions, he may refuse to issue on the complaint. If the charge still stands, there may be plea bargaining where a lesser charge replaces a more serious one if the defendant agrees to plead guilty.

Now the court gets the case. The case generally is a well watered-down version of the original. In court, the defendant often is defended by an attorney supplied by taxpayers. The defense attorney uses all of his experience and skill to convince the court to free his indigent client.

Courts seem reluctant to overcrowd penal institutions so the judge listens carefully for any incorrect, mitigating or insufficient evidence or for any information that gives rationale for releasing the suspect.

The percentage of persons that make it to a penal institution is low. It all comes under the head of criminal justice.

The public apparently is not yet aware that criminal justice system is a two-way street. The opposite way could be called "public justice." Citizens scrimp to pay taxes much of which protects the criminal in the system. It assures criminals a better than fair shake from commission of the crime until the court turns him loose.

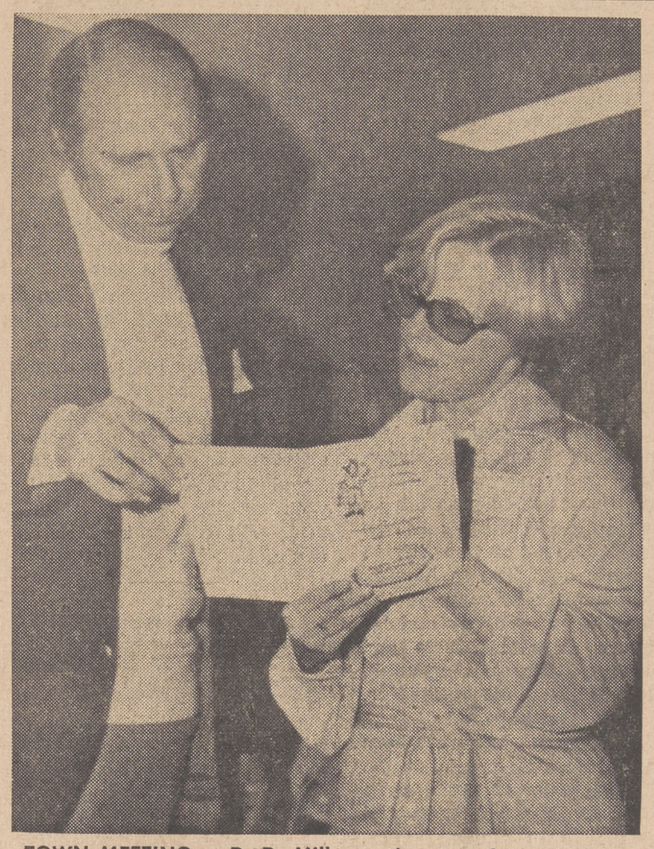
70 arrests suggest that defendants are freed for the purpose of clobbering others who are paying the terrible costs for testing suspects' rights every step of the way and to assure him that he will go free if at all possible.

All but forgotten is the innocent victim who lives in constant fear of bodily harm and property loss. He is forgotten because somehow, the due process philosophy has been perverted and now protects only the criminally charged.

Once the system seemed to work by segregating those who disrupt the orderly existence of society. Then police, courts and prisons were strong control factors.

Now, even when guilt is acknowledged, a growing percentage is being turned back into the stream of society — a society growing more fearful by the day.

If courts could send a message out with the hoodlums they coddle, it would probably read: Dear Society: Here is your wrongdoer. He sprang from your womb. Take him back!"



TOWN MEETING — D. D. Miller, assistant to Supervisor Lucille Moore, and Donna Beckley follow through a program during Saturday's Lemon Grove Family Town Meeting. About 200 attended the day long gathering in the Auditorium of St. John of the Cross Church, 8086 Broadway.

More Than $150 in the Black

Town Meeting Hailed As 'Beyond Expectations'

The Lemon Grove Family Town Meeting not only turned out to be one of the best public forums on the issues of Lemon Grove but also managed to make over $150 for the July 1 cityhood inauguration ceremonies.

"I think it was greater than I expected," said Town Meeting Chairman Donna Beckley, "It went far beyond my expectations. I am very tired but very happy."

The Town Meeting held this past Saturday at St. John of the Cross Auditorium drew over 200 area residents to discuss the future of Lemon Grove.

Also on hand was Assemblyman Pete Chacon to present a flag, State Senator Jim Mills, Congressman Lionel Van Deerlin, and Lucille Moore's assistant, D. D. Miller.

Throughout the day, workshops were held on such issues as:

—dial-a-ride for Lemon Grove
—a more stable tax base
—municipal trash pick-up
—maintaining the country atmosphere
—curing traffic congestion and maintaining the streets
—attracting new business
—and open dialog between citizens and the city council.

Donna Beckley added the Town Meeting came out some $150 to $200 in the black and this money would go for inauguration ceremonies this July.

Beckley said also there will be a meeting of the steering committee Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in room 1 of Monterey Heights School.

Logo Contest Logs First Seven Designs

Only seven entries have been filed with Lemon Grove City Logo Contest Chairman Craig Lake with the deadline a mere three weeks away.

The deadline for entries in the contest is May 13.

The Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the contest for local designers asking them to come up with ideas for the official seal of the new city of Lemon Grove. The seal will be used on all official documents, awards, stationery, city vehicles and property.

"The logo designs," said Chairman Lake, "should reflect simplicity and idealism."

Lake added the design should be representative of the lifestyle of Lemon Grove.

Dell Badge and Trophy Enterprises have placed a $50 savings bond as first prize in the contest.

Logo designs may be submitted to Craig Lake, Dell Enterprises, 7917 Broadway, Lemon Grove.

Council to Discuss Financing, Parks at Tonight's Meeting

Lemon Grove City councilmen, operating as an advisory committee (until July 1) to the County Board of Supervisors, will meet at 8 p.m. tonight at the Lemon Grove Fire station on Central ave.

TOWN MEETING DIGNITARY — Lemon Grove's Town Meeting drew U.S. Representative Lionel Van Deerlin for opening ceremonies Saturday morning. Congressman Van Deerlin expressed pride in the newest city of his congressional district and cited the importance of holding a town meeting to exchange ideas on how the city is to begin.

The meeting is a half-hour later than the previous one and the public is urged to attend.

At tonight's meeting Lloyd Lowrey, director of Parks and Recreation for the County will discuss relinquishing local parks and the youth center to the city later this year.

He is also scheduled to discuss the possibility of the county providing funds from the Subdivision Act law where developers contribute to parks in the area of the development. Requests for $25,000 for the aquatic program at Mt. Miguel High school and $8,000 for lights at the L.G. Junior High school fields have already been made.

Tom Parks, liaison officer between the county and council, will discuss means of financing the new government until income starts rolling in, he said. He will also report on a recruitment program in which a city attorney will be chosen. Letters will go out this week to persons in this field of endeavor.

Councilman Jack Doherty will report on a meeting he attended with directors of the Comprehensive Planning Organization.

Councilmen will continue meeting every two weeks until "C-Day" said Mayor Jim Dorman. "C" is for cityhood and Dorman is mayor as a result of a voice vote by other members of the committee at a prior meeting.

Parks said that although funds would be needed to start the city, a proposal that the funds be borrowed from the Fire Department probably couldn't be permitted. Alternatives are a bank loan or an advance from the county through the county treasurer.

Members of the committee who will become councilmen July 1 are Dorman, Dr. Robert Burns, vice mayor; Doherty, Dell Lake and Pastor Dale Bailey.

Man Shot in Thigh In LG–Somewhere

It was a mystery shooting—sort of.

Michael Ceria Cosner, 37, of 7555 Pacific st., Lemon Grove, lay wounded in Alvarado hospital.

He had been shot in the inside upper thigh by a small calibre weapon.

An unidentified caller told sheriff's deputies that a man lay bleeding to death in the Horseshoe Tavern at 7664 Broadway, Lemon Grove.

Cosner told police an unidentified man approached him in the Mayfair parking lot 7663 Broadway at 1:30 a.m. Saturday. He felt a pain and discovered he had been shot. Police could find no physical evidence at the parking lot.

A cleanup man at the tavern let officers in the now closed tavern and police found two puddles of floor on the floor.

A doctor in the hospital emergency room said Cosner had been brought in by a companion and that a third person had been named in connection with the incident.

Cosner was treated and discharged from the hospital.

Broken Taillight Leads Man to Jail As Theft Suspect

A broken taillight and failure of the driver to give turn signals aroused the suspicions of a Lemon Grove deputy sheriff Thursday morning at 3 o'clock.

The driver, a black male, 43, of San Diego, had no drivers license on his person when the officer requested it but claimed it was in an overnight case he carried in the trunk of his car.

The trunk contained not only an overnight case but there were three half-gallons of liquor in unopened bottles.

When the man fished through his case to find the drivers license, a blue-steel .36 calibre pistol was in view.

The officer took possession of the handgun immediately. His police radio at the time was reporting a break-in of the Hi-Lo Liquor store at 2757 Imperial ave., only a few blocks from where the suspect was stopped. Entry into the liquor store was made by breaking the glass from the front door.

The suspect was placed in custody after the officer found pieces of broken glass on the front seat.

In the trunk of the car police also found miscellaneous pieces of jewelry, an electric drill and other items.

The glass pieces are being checked against the glass broken for the liquor store door.

Rainfall is Slight

Rain on April 14 totaled just .02 inches to bring the season total to 0.09 in the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley areas.

A storm during the same period a year ago brought the 1976 total to 9.57 inches—surpassing this year's total for the first time.

Rainfall year ends June 30.

Police-Aid CB Radios Featured in 2-Day Show

A two-day display of CB radios and CB-equipped vehicles sponsored by the Construction Industry Freeway Patrol HELP Club and area low enforcement agencies has been scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, in the Fashion Valley Shopping Center Mall.

The event is designed to promote CB participation in the HELP Club and newly organized Citizens Aware Program, inform the public of Services offered by the Construction Industry Freeway Patrol and to acquaint both novice and veteran CB operators with the latest in CB equipment.

The April 23 hours will be from 11:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. and the displays may be viewed on April 24 from noon to five.

Participants who will be talking with the public, showing equipment, providing demonstrations or answering questions include: the Sheriff's Department, CHP and police departments of National City, Oceanside, Chula Vista, Coronado and Escondido.

The FBI will be present to discuss the national "Crime Resistance Program," and effort involving citizen cooperation to reduce criminal acts. Personnel from the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) will have the latest information on CB operation, answer questions and distribute applications to prospective radio operators.

All area CB operators and the general public are invited to attend.

Set Clocks Ahead Sun.

Don't forget to set your clocks ahead one hour before you retire this Saturday night to mark the annual change from standard time to daylight savings time.

Daylight savings time becomes official at 2 a.m. Sunday morning.

Why a City Council?

One of a Series

Cities are but one level of the levels of government which possess government responsibilities and authority.

Cities perform the functions most vital and direct concern of the health and safety of their inhabitants, while federal and state concern themselves generally with the broader economic and social interests of the community.

Counties generally operate as an arm of the state and have every little regulatory authority within the city, while special purpose districts (such as flood control, sanitation, air polution, etc.) serve only limited functions.

Regionalism either in the form of a new layer of government or in form of a voluntary cooperation is currently under study.

The hundreds of California cities are tied together in a federation called "The League of California Cities." This organization holds annual conferences and acts in the common interest of all cities in the matters of research, legislation, litigation and planning.

Approximately 80 per cent of the cities in California are general law cities, governed primarily by the Government Code; the remaining 20 per cent are charter cities which have adopted local "by-laws" and are governed by both charter provisions and applicable general laws.

City Councils in California consist of 5 or more members usually elected at large on a non-partisan basis. The mayor is generally chosen by the city council from their own membership to preside at council meetings and to act as ceremonial head of the city.

The city establishes local laws, sets policy approves programs, appropriates funds, establishes the city's tax rate and in general supervises the operations of city government, the construction of public works, and provides the citizenry a better, more attractive and healthier place in which to live.

The local ordinances adopted by the city council are compiled in a book called the municipal code. These laws are enforceable by the city, and violation constitutes a misdemeanor. Other directives and policies of the city council are recorded in the council resolutions or in the council minutes.

The municipal code is generally divided into principal categories of municipal activity, such as: taxes; administration; public safety; public welfare and morals; sanitation and health; business regulations; public works; building regulations; planning, zoning and subdivisions, and nuisance abatement.

Salaries of city council members may be set within prescribed limits by act of the city council. In general law cities, councilmen serve four-year overlapping terms with municipal elections being held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in March on even numbered years.

WHO WILL BE MISS LEMON GROVE? — One girl will be named at 7:30 p.m. Saturday night at the Lemon Grove Junior High Auditorium to represent the City of Lemon Grove in the Fairest of the Fair Competition at Del Mar this Summer.
Chairman Lake said all the girls will be special representatives of the new city at civic functions and will appear in the Old Time Days Parade.

Problems with alcohol, ex-drug addict

Q. I am an ex-drug addict an have drunk all my life. I have been in and out of the hospital seven or eight times. Now that I am out again I just don't know what to do with my life. I have lost my wife and kids. I've been very sick and need help very badly. Do you have any advice?

A. The first thing is to want to start over again. Really want to rebuild your life. And then believe that you can do so. Affirm that you are on the upward path. See a minister and ask his guidance. He will lead to you counseling help.

Finally, and perhaps most importantly, ask God to change you into a sober and self-controlled.. person. ..That has been done by many others, and you can change too...

We have a booklet, "The Power to Change Your Life," which has helped others with problems such as yours, and a copy of it is on its way to you. Anyone reading this column who wishes a free copy may write to us for one. Address your request to Dr. and Mrs. Peale, Box 500, Pawling, NY 12564.

Mind over Matter

Q. I am a woman in my 50's, married young. Have a loving, thoughtful hardworking, well, just the best-there-could-be husband, fine family (all married), have always had good health, enjoyed life, been very active. But this past year my health went all to pieces. So many different, rather serious illnesses have afflicted me. High blood pressure, kidney disease, crippling arthritis, and now I'm losing my hair.

I find all this rather hard to accept. Why me? Why so much? Why so fast? The hardest one seems to be losing my hair, which I'm told, will never grow back. The more I worry the faster my hair falls out. I know there are wigs, but they have always given me a headache. How do you keep from worrying? I could use some advice.

A. It is true that illnesses sometimes come like an avalanche. But also they often pass away and the individual enjoys a long period of good health.

There are two things you can do to help yourself. First, of course, is good medical attention, which we presume you are getting. In addiion, have a positive mental attitude that you are going to overcome these conditions. Forcefully reject all negative and hysterical thinking.

Visualize yourself as a healthy, well person and you will have an excellent chance of being just that. We suggest you go to a good beauty parlor or wig specialist and be fitted for one of the new lighter, easier-to-wear wigs. They are much more comfortable than the old ones.

Year After Leap Blues

Q. I am going with a boy but not regularly who I want to marry. He goes to church every Saturday and Sunday and works in the church.

His father is a preacher. We both said if it was God's will for us to marry we would and if it wasn't, we wouldn't.

I believe that if I pray (and I try, too) believing God will grant my heart's desire. How can I pray that I will be married sometime this year? I am 31 year old and he is 29.

A. It is perfectly legitimate to want to get married this year. We suggest that in your prayers you set a date. Then pray that, if it is God's will, the marriage will take place as specified. A strong power in bringing a goal into being is set in operation when a specific objective is fixed and held firmly in consciousness.

Visually picture-image the young man and yourself as being married at the time you have prayerfully set. If it is God's will that you do become married, we will not be at all surprised if it occurs at the time indicated.

—o—

Perhaps you would like to find an answer for yourself to a problem that you can share with others in THERE'S AN ANSEWER. .If there is something you would like to ask Dr. and Mrs. Peale to discuss in this column, write to them in care of Box 500, Pawling, NY 12564.

Church Primate in S.D. For 50th Anniversary Of St. Spyridon Church

Archbishop Iakovos, spiritual head of over five million Greek Orthodox communicans in North and South America, who arrives here Friday to celebrate the 50th Anniversary of St. Spyridon Church April 23 and 24 represents at its best the activist, ecumenically-minded type of modern religious leaders.

Appropriately as one who marched with Martin Luther King at Selma, Alabama, visited soldiers in Vietnam and worked closely with Presidents Kennedy and Carter, His Eminence will be met at Lindbergh Field by a delegation headed by religious and secular leaders — Jim Bates, Chairman of the County Board of Supervisors, and members of the Greek church.

The Greek Orthodox Primate has made vast contributions to the cause of Christian unity during his work as one of the Presidents of the World Council of Churches in Geneva, according to Alex L. Rigopoulos, chairman of the two days of festivity and religious observance here and and the Pastor of the Parish, Rev. Father Theodore Phillips.

Multi-Lingual

Archbishop Iakovos, born Demetrios a Coucouzis, on the Turkish Isle of Imbros in 1911, has written books and pamphlets in Greek, French, English and German and also speaks Spanish and Turkish. Now an American citizen, he recently appeared in an interview on NBC's TODAY show.

He has met in private audience with Popes John XXIII and Paul VI, serves as President of St. Basil's Academy in Garrison, New York and as Trustee of Anatolia College in Salonika, Greece.

When in Boston before his election as Primate of April 1, 1959, he became an avid fan of the Boston Red Sox baseball team.

A key event here will occur when the Archbishop presides over a Divine Liturgy Sunday in Balboa Park Bowl starting 10 a.m. His remarks will be of national and ecumenical signicifance, according to local church officials.

The Sunday Liturgy will be followed by a Grand Bansuet at 1:30 p.m. at the Royal Inn at the Wharf to which state? wide political leaders and representatives of local churches of all faiths will be in attendance.

Other events include a Divine Liturgy at the Church on Saturday at 9:30 a.m. followed by the Souflaki Barbeque on the Parish grounds at noon, a Youth Rally (an informal dialogue between the Youth and the Archbishop) at 1 p.m., Vespers at 5:30 p.m. and a reunion at 7 p.m. at the Royal Inn. A Greek Glendi with dancing and entertainment will climax the activities of that day.

R.N. Heads 'Care' Class

A five-week course " Are You Looking for a New Way to Care" conducted by Lorraine G. McGrath, R.N., M.S. and first patient-representative in S.D. will be open to the public.

Course subjects will include information about patient representatives, a new concept in today's health care, patients' rights and needs and setting up health programs.

Beginning May 3 workshops will be held Tuesdays at 7 p.m. at the Clairemont Lutheran Church, 4271 Clairemont Mesa blvd. Registration fee is $50, including materials. The number is 276-5955.

The Convention is scheduled to begin tomorrow and will have as theme: "Open Your Hearts—Share Your Dreams". Junior Courts will submit banners for competition on the theme with prizes awarded for the most artistic, best overall, and best depicts theme. The juniors will also submit their scrapbooks in the competition.

Serving on the nominating committee for the election of officers will be Gisella Neve of Court Teresa of Avila no. 1580 of Lemon Grove.

S.V. Painter's Work In S.D. Bank's Display

An exhibition of acrylics, entirely on the subject of food, will be displayed at a San Diego bank in May.

The artist, Greg Northrup of Spring Valley, explains that food and images of food is a language. Its signs and symbols can be learned. It shapes our consciousness, defines behavior, and codifies our culture.

Northrup's paintings depict food but produce an insight into ourselves. They are amusing, annoying, startling, lyrical, political and odd. They offer a feast for the eyes, at a leisurely pace.

The artist is a member of San Diego Art Institute and Artists Equity, and received his Bachelor of Arts degree from UCSD.

Arthritis Clinic Listed

Treatment and control of arthritis will be the topic of a lecture Friday, at 1 p.m. at the Senior Citizens Center of Spring Valley, Lutheran Church at 3345 Sweetwater Springs blvd.

Guest speaker Dr. George Moore, a family practioner and head of the Moore Memorial Arthritis Clinic in S.D., believes that he has discovered the cause for the disease-infection. His method of treatment is a two-aspect plan involving vaccine administration and a tissue-building diet.

SCHOLARSHIP AWARDS — Four Mt. Miguel High School seniors will receive $50 Vocational Scholarship awards from the Spring Valley Woman's Club.

Receiving awards will be (l-r) Gayla Capehart, Kathleen O'Neil, Sherrie Clements, and Barbara Smith.

Awards will be made April 27 at the business meeting of the Spring Valley Woman's Club at Goodland Acres Park Club House, 8848 Troy street, Spring Valley. Making the awards for the Spring Valley Woman's Club will be Mrs. Warren Lewis, Chairman of the scholarship committee.

This Week's RECIPE

Cranberry-Orange Chicken

Nothing could make more sense for the busy house expert than an all-in-one dish which is quick and conserves energy. Cranberry-Orange chicken combines fowl and vegetables with the tartness of cranbery.

CRANBERRY-ORANGE CHICKEN

- 2 broiler-fryer chickens, about 2 pounds, cut-up
- Salt and pepper
- 1/3 cup butter or margarine
- 1 cup chopped onions
- ½ cup cranberry-orange relish
- 2 cans (10½ oz. each) condensed chicken broth
- ½ cup rose wine
- 16 whole new potatoes, peeled
- 1 package (10 oz.) frozen lima beans
- 1 cup sliced celery
- 1 package (10 oz.) frozen whole carrots
- 2 tablespoons cornstarch mixed with 2 tablespoons water.

Wash chicken and pat dry. Sprinkle pieces with salt and pepper. Brown chicken in butter in a large skillet. Remove pieces as they brown. Add cranberry-orange relish and onions to pan drippings and saute until onions are wilted. Add browned chicken, chicken broth and wine. Simmer for 20 minutes while covered. Add potatoes, and limas. Simmer covered for another 20 minutes. Add celery and carrots. Remove chicken, potatoes, and carrots to a platter. Cover; cook 10 minutes. Blend cornstarch mixture into pan drippings. Stir until smooth and thickened. Spoon sauce over chicken and vegetables. Garnish with parsley.

G'mont Aux. Donates $40,000 to Hospital

The Grossmont Hospital Auxiliary has donated over $40,000 in equipment and other expenses to the hospital from proceeds collected by fund-raising events.

Some $35,000 has been allocated by the Auxiliary to provide four more treatment stations for hemodialysis patients. The remaining $5,000 was earmarked to go for meals-on-wheels volunteer office remodeling, purchase of a movie projector, messenger cart and help to pay for a new information brochure. The Auxiliary has also set aside an additional $2,500 for scholarships for selected junior volunteers.

Also the Hospital is looking for additional volunteers: Interested people may call the Auxiliary office at 465-0711, ext. 477 to volunteer.

Last Lecture Upcoming For Art Series

Dr. Robert R. Wark, curator of the art collection for the Huntington Art Gallery will lecture on "The History of the Huntington Estate" in the last lecture of this season's Meet the Masters series. The slide-lecture will be 10:45 a.m. May 10 in the James S. Copley Auditorium in Balboa Park and is sponsored by the Fine Arts Gallery.

Tickets are $3.50 for members and $4 for non-members and lunch is included. Reservation deadline is May 6 and contact Steven Brezzo, Asst. Director, 232-7931, to secure.

VA College Checks Will Be Mailed Late

Starting this coming June the check will be in the mail for some 1.5 million college students receiving Veterans Administration Educational assistance.

Students will receive their checks for May but the June checks won't be mailed until July 1.

Also issuing checks two months in advance at the start of the school year was cut to one month — and that only when requested by both the student and the school.

The VA has decided to send checks at the end instead of the beginning of each month.

Most colleges and universities require tuition and fees for the semester or quarter to be paid in advance.

The Federal government also lags in paying their bills so that treasury may collect additional interest.

Play Presented At City

San Diego City College will present "Father's Day" on April 28, 29, 30, May 1, 5, 6, and 7 in the City College theatre, 15th and C streets. Admission is $2.50 for adults, $1 for students, seniors, and military.

Teacher's Contract May Keep Negotiator Busy

The second teachers contract ever presented to the Lemon Grove School Board of Trustees may keep negotiator busy for the next few months ironing out controversities.

The teachers' side of the proposal was laid into the hands of the District Board on March 1 and since has received some flak from concerned parents who feel at least some of the demands are extravagant.

April 12, former school board candidate Charles Pennell, 2115 Craig court, both praised and attacked the contract before the Lemon Grove School Board.

"Generally, I congratulate LGTA (Lemon Grove Teachers' Association) for presenting a reasonable proposal," Pennell told the Board, "Though there are some excessive increases in certain areas."

Contract Attacked

Pennell attacked:

—the association's request of a "closed shop", making it mandatory for the LGTA to collect dues from non-members,

—the proposed extention of the grievance procedure to allow teachers to challenge all decision made by management,

—the increase of sick leave from 10 to 14 days,

—the increase of bereavement from three to seven days,

—the doubling of the number of sabbatical leaves available each year.

—the dropping of teachers, lunch, but, ball, and recess duties,

—the request that the teachers be allowed to approve the District's choice of insurance,

—and the 10 per cent across the board salary increase plus a plan that would give master's degreed teachers $300 and doctorate's $800 raises.

Largest issue on Pennell's list was the salaries.

"The LGTA is requesting an across the board increase of ten per cent for all members," Pennell said. "This seems excessive to me when the Consumer Price Index is up only six per cent."

"The average teacher salary for the district is over $16,000 for eight months of actual teaching time," he continued, "we are facing major district expenditures for buses and handicapped children programs and uncertainty in sources for school financing."

LGTA Respond

Lemon Grove Teacher's Association President Barbara Brockhouse said many misunderstandings were cropping up over the proposed contract.

She explained many people were up in arms about "agency shops" and generally the Rhoda Act which mandates them.

The Rhodda Act gives California teachers the right to collective bargain with school boards and has in itself become somewhat of a confusing issue.

"SB-160, the Rhodda Act gave us the right to negotiate for an agency shop," Mrs. Brockhouse explained, "The issue of requiring non-members to pay is legitimate since they are covered under many of the same provisions members are."

On the other issues, Mrs. Brockhouse had these comments:

—regarding the leave provisions, she questioned Pennell's sources saying: "I'd like to know where he gets those figures."

—on the isue of clearing duties for the teachers, Mrs. Brockhouse said, "You have someone trained to teach performing supervisory work. State law requires we have at least one and one-half hour of duty free time for preparation." Presently, the teachers have one-half hour before school, one-half hour during lunchtime, and a half hour after school. According to guidelines given education students in college, two hours of preparation is minium for each hour of classroom teaching.

But this plan, Mrs. Brockhouse added, "It would take some money."

Also Mrs. Brockhouse said included in the contract was a plan to have an ombudsman or liaison person who would act as a courier-negotiator throughout the year for the teachers and the school board.

Sugar Beets, Honey Equally Bad For Teeth—Assn Says

The controversy over sugar's relation to tooth decay is taking shape to be one of which fods represent the worst culprits.

One state dietetic association claims, against reports from "natural" food expnents, such sources of sweeting as raw sugar beets, honey, and natural raw sugar are more conducive to dental decay.

The dietetic group allegedly found after testing honey and raw sugar beets on laboratory animals, there was extensive too decay.

"The tests indicate that these natural sugars do not protect against decay, but instead are just as decay producing as any other sugar," the association said.

Yet, the group did find natural sugars found in fresh fruits and milk produced very little or no decay. These foods are called "detergent" in that they act as natural cleaners to the teeth.

In other reports, the group said it was a misconception to hold whole meal breads to cause less tooth decay than white bread. They claimed experiments with animals show no difference in the incidence of cavities when comparinng white flour to whole meal flour.

Auto Students Try For Mechanics Honors

Two area high schools are competing in a contest for automotive trouble shooting sponsored by Chrysler Corporation, officials of the Corporation announced.

Helix High and Mount Miguel High school's auto mechanics are taking qualifying tests for the May 12 state. wide contest slated for Pioneer High School in Whittier.

In the competition, teams of two students will try and fix a series of malfunctions which have been deliberately hidden in brand new Plymouths. Points scored on the mechanical contest count for 60 per cent of the team's final score while the written exams count 40 per cent.

Winners of the state competition go on to the national contest June 19-22 in Atlanta. Fifty teams will compete there for more than $45,000 in scholarships and prizes.

OL' NINETY-SEVEN — George Behlman of Lemon Grove, driving a Camero battles with Frab Donofrio of El Cajon for the lead at the Cajon Speedway. The track opened Saturday with 5,448 fans in the stands. Races continue there every Saturday.

Esau Grabs Lead in Cajon Opener

Those two familiar names—Ron Esau (230 points) and Pat McIntyre (220) are atop the standings again this year but there has been only one race and there are more challenged to come.

Actually, it was Easau's fifth straight victory. He won the final four Cajon Speedway features in 1976.

A standing-room crowd of 5,448 fans attended the opening event of the 17th racing campaign and they were prepped for more such challenges which should bring back another large turnout Saturday night when superstocks battle for berths in the 22-car, 40-lap feature.

Time trials begin at 6:30 with 55-60 machines expected to be on the line. The trophy dash will start things at 8, followed by four 8-lap heats, a 10-lap consolation, 20-lap semi-main and a 40 lap feature.

As an added atraction, lady drivers will compete in the first Powder Puff clash.

With a record super stock purse ($5,247) last week, it wouldn't be surprising to see a few invaders from the north.

Some of the drivers report that recent Ontario Motor Speedway winner Jimmy Insolo of Mission Hills is expected to sign in soon.

Esau will be driving the same Ivan Baldwin-prepared Nova this week, a car he'll handle until Jim Jensen completes a new Corvair for him.

McIntyre obviously has found a solution — if he really needed one — with the automatic clutch. He was challenging Easu last week but slower traffic forced him to settle for second best.

A pleasant surprise was Kevin Reno, a 20-year old El Cajon driver whose previous claim to fame has been three consolation wins and one heat victory.

He held off all the veterans for 31 laps of last week's main until a slight bobble allowed Esau and McIntyre to get past. But he received a lot of encouragement and could be one of the super stock's new stars.

Fishing Season Here

A burglar took some fishing rods from an unoccupied house belonging to Andrew Paul Zubruncky of 8789 Valencia st. in Spring Valley.

The house is next door to Zubrucky's residence and some of his stuff is stored in it. The thief left other items after taking 6 fishing rods valued at $200.

Padres Return Monday For Long Homestand

The San Diego Padres will conclude their second road trip of the season with four games in three days with the Houston Astros and then jet right back to San Diego to begin the club's longest homestand of the season on Monday against the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The Padres, idle today, will test the Astros in the famed Astrodome in single games on Friday and Sunday, and a doubleheader sandwiched in between the dates. That will not only close out the travel for the month of April, but will mark the last away encounter with a member of the National League's Western Division until the end of May.

Following the Houston affairs, the Padres will return to San Diego to open up a 15-game homestand beginning with Los Angeles Dodgers. The Padres and Dodgers will collide in single games Monday through Thursdy, April 25-28, with all contests getting underway at 7 p.m. at San Diego Stadium.

Also on tap for that gigantic homestand are three games with the New York Mets and four each with the Philadelphia Phillies and Montreal Expos as the Padres swing right into action with the Eastern Division at the end of the month.

The Padres promotional schedule will be on the light side in the early going of the homestand as the only item on the docket during the four games with Los Angeles is the first of 11 selected dates for members of the 7-Up Junior Padres Club.

"We want to come out of our first series of meetings with the other Western Division clubs on a solid footing," related fourth-year manager John McNamara. "After the four games with the Dodgers we will have played every divisional opponent at least once (the Padres already have two series out of the way the two-time defending World Champions Cincinnati) and we will be starting comptition against the East.

"It's important for any club to open strongly within its own division and if we can hold the line at .500 or better then we should be in fine shape. We don't want to slip in the early going as it takes a lot longer to catch up during interdivisional play," continued the San Diego skipper.

Teevee Burglar Busy in Grove

A teevee burglar was busy in Lemon Grove on April 14. At 8:30 p.m. Norma Elizabeth Heine of 3277 Olive st. reported to sheriff's deputies that her 19" color portable was taken while she was at work. Police said the thief got in the residence through an open window. Her set was valued at $250.

An hour later, Charles Andrew Perez of 1482 El Prado told deputies that his teevee worth $200 was taken while he was at work. The intruder got in by forcing the front door.

All-Star Tennis Match Booked for San Diego

San Diego will host the World Team Tennis All-Star match this summer, it was jointly announced by Allan Kingston, general manager of the Friars, the city's team in the WTT, and San Diego mayor Pete Wilson. Also participating in the announcement was Butch Buchholz, WTT commissioner. The San Diego City Council has agreed to provide $15,000 room-tax funds for the event.

The event, which will bring together the sport's top woman and men players, will be held July 9 at the Sports Arena and will be televised nationally by NBC.

"The All-Star match is considered one of the premier events of the entire tennis year," Kingston said. "The unique characteristic of World Team Tennis with men and women contributing equally to the team result provides that nearly all of the world's great stars will be competing in San Diego on July 9. It's like several dream matches played in succession."

NBC estimates that the anticipated two and one-half hour telecast to the match's conclusion will attract a viewing audience of 10-11 million.

"We at NBC Sports are pleased to be telecasting the World Team Tennis All-Star match for the third consecutive year and look forward to San Diego hosting the event," said Chet Simmons, NBC vice-president for sports. "The All-Star match is unique among live tennis events in that it gives the viewing audience the opportunity to watch 16 of the world's best men and women players in action on the same telecast."

AllStar List

Male WTT players include Bjorn Borg, Rod Laver, Tom Okker, Marty Riessen, John Alexander, Tony Roche, Sandy Mayer, Vitas Gerulaitis and Frew McMillan. Women stars include Chris Evert, Virgina Wade, Martina Navratilova, Kerry Reid, Sue Barker, Betty Stove, Billie Jean King and Olga Morozova.

"It would not have been possible to arrange the All-Star match for San Diego without the complete cooperation of mayor Pete Wilson, the San Diego City Council and the San Diego Convention and Visitors Bureau," Kingston said. "Their involvement certainly was a major factor in influencing the league to select this city."

"San Diego welcomes the opportunity to host the All-Star match and participate in such a major sports event," mayor Pete Wilson said. "This area always has been really involved in tennis and interest in recent years has accelerated with the growth of the sport. I am confident that World Team Tennis, its teams and its players along with tennis fans throughout the country will find San Diego a championship site for this important match."

Buchholz said that the growing fan interest in World Team Tennis in San Diego made that city the logical site for this year's All-Star match.

"The Friars have sold well over 1200 season tickets for this season, more than three times last year's total," Buchholz said. "This should be a terrific season for the Friars and I believe the All-Star match will make it even more so."

The Sports Arena hold a little more than 13,000.

The All-Star match will follow regular WTT rules and will consist of five sets; men's and women's singles, men's and women's doubles and mixed doubles. The winner will be the team with the most games won.

Last year, the West defeated the East in a super tiebreaker after the clubs had tied in regular competition. The event was held in Oakland.

Western division teams are San Diego, Golden Gate (Oakland), Los Angeles, Phoenix and Sea-Port (Seattle-Portland). Eastern division clubs are New York, Boston, Indiana, Cleveland and the Russian National team.

Possible player match-ups are Evert vs. Navratilova in women's singles, Laver vs. Borg in men's singles, Riessen and Roche vs. Okker and McMillan in men's doubles.

Kingston said that an announcement would be made soon concerning public purchase of All-Star tickets but that Friars' season ticket holders would be guaranteed their regular seats.

Portable Stove Warning Issued

Two models of alcohol and kerosene stoves manufactured by Optimus-Princess, Inc., Santa Fe Springs, could possibly leak fuel from the burner base causing a "flare-up" when lit.

The stoves having this problem are the P22A/K and P24A/K recessed two burner model stoves designed for alcohol or kerosene fuel with brick-red gaskets between the burner base and the mounting sockets. Three stoves with fuel leaks were discovered.

All owners of the P22 and P24 model stoves are urged to inspect the gaskets on these stoves. Stoves with black gasket material are not defective.

Owners who discover that the gaskets in their stoves are brick-red color are urged to write the manufacturer at Optimu-Princess, Inc. 12423 E. Florence ave. Santa Fe Springs, CA 90670. He will supply three replacement gaskets and instructions on how to install them.

S.D. City Council OKs Tennis Aid

The S.D. City Council unanimously voted to allocate $15,000 in room tax revenues to support the July nationally televised World Team Tennis All-Star Match to be played in San Diego.

In return, NBC will air a three-minute film feature on San Diego during the broadcast which promotes San Diego as an attractive resort for visitors, Mayor Wilson told reporters.

The San Diego feature will be produced by the San Diego Convention and Visitors Bureau, which initiated the request for city funding because of the exposure San Diego will receive as a visitor destination.

The funds will come from Transient Occupancy Tax revenues, a six per cent tax paid by visitors on hotel and motel bills during their stay in the City of San Diego. The revenues are earmarked by ordinance for use in the promotion of San Diego.

TAKE FIVE

by John E. Wirges

Stop the presses. Call out the Marines. Hold back the dawn. Everybody close in and listen up. A mighty deed is in the making.

The San Diego Chargers are looking for talent. Not news, you say. They're always in need of talent.

That's true. But even the Chargers earn good marks for this type of talent search. This time out the Chargers are looking for heavenly bodies. Chargettes. Lassies with a little class.

Somehow they started off at rock bottom with their selection of talent scouts. They're coming up from zero.

Did the Charger's brass think of inviting friendly sports' writing types, good family men one and all, to serve as their pulchritude police? Not on your tintype. Error on the Chargers.

Instead, the Chargers signed up a pair of wacky KCBQ sound polluters named Charlie and Harrigan. Talent is a foreign word to both of them.

Charlie's claim to fame comes with his ability to read the McDonald's wine list in the dark. Harrigan only likes girls who can cook. He's very big in the knife and fork league.

Both these guys do their best stuff after dark, but that ain't when the Chargers talent search is to be conducted. At least the early stuff. That's coming off this Saturday and Sunday at 10 a.m. at the Stadium. Interested gals can call Pat Rogers at 280-2111.

Finals are scheduled for the survivors in the Olympus Room at the Atlantis food and drink palace at 6 p.m. on Monday (May 2.)

In an effort to keep Charlie and Harrigan under control, the Chargers have assigned their talent chief, "Tank" Younger, to the judge board. And the report is, he's under special instructions from Charger general manager Johnny Sanders.

The fact is, Johnny laid the law down for all the judges.

"There'll be no prodding, punching or feeling for muscles," cracked Sir John. "This will be strictly a 'no contact' drill."

Younger didn't mind that as much as he did rule number two. It seems the young gals trying out for the 24 Chargette positions will not have to run against the clock.

"No sprints for time?" thundered Tank, who has his own ideas about how a talent search should be run. "Everybody's got to have a time in the 40 yard sprint," he reasoned. "Anything less would be unAmerican."

"Well . . . maybe just a few," hedged Sir John. "We won't use the times for the contest, but if you log any of those gals in less than 4.3, let me know. We could always use a tail back with real speed."

Realizing that Charlie and Harrigan are . . . well . . . er . . . not like normal folks, Sir John has reserved the right to assign additional judges as the need arises. "Real folks," he insisted. "No reporters."

What a shame. Most reporters have an eye for beauty. And sports reporters are the best of the lot. They can spot a pretty leg or a well-turned calf halfway across a dark bar.

Lyle Burns, the seating entrepreneur of the Charger games during the heyday of the American Football League has gone into the clothing dodge with Chuck Ayash down the hall from where the Chargers used to hold office in the Lafayette Hotel. He is also seeking a Chargette judges berth.

"I've seen most of the seats in San Diego," he claims. "And, I dare say, I'm an expert. Besides Chuck and I are very good on anything for size 8 to size 12."

The girls may be a little young for Lyle. "It's open to young lovelies who'll be 18 by 1 May," he was told. "That is pretty young for old gaffers like you and Ayash."

"If Charlie and Harrigan can do it, we can, too," he claimed. "We'll judge them two at a time to make up for the age thing."

Small wonder Johnny Sanders hasn't called them . . . or me. Damn.

Kick-off Ceremonies Readied For Little League Minors

A busy weekend of action is again scheduled for the Lemon Grove Little League with four major League games on Saturday followed by Minor League and Clinic kick-off ceremonies and exhibition games on Sunday.

In Major League action Saturday Mission Van and Storage Indians (1-0) face the Food Basket Tigers (1-0) in the first game beginning at 8 a.m. The second game at 10 a.m. has Jack-in-the-Box Cubs (0-1) facing the Dodgers (0-1). In the noon game McDonald's Yankees (1-0) face the Kiwanis Orioles (1-0). The 2 p.m. finale has Jim's U Rent-It Braves (0-1) facing the Burger King Red Sox (0-1).

Sunday's kick-off ceremonies will be held at 1 p.m. In addition to the colorful ceremonies, prizes will be presented to youngsters selling the most tickets for the league's Shopping Spree fund raising event. KOGO Radio's Bill Moffitt, Master of Ceremonies, will announce the winner of the $400 or five-minute Shopping Spree in addition to the winners of nine $25 gift certificates.

With Daylight Saving Time going into effect Sunday, all leagues will begin weeknight games Monday in addition to a full slate of Saturday games each week.

Metric Tools Taken

A tool chest of mechanic's tools worth $1,000 was taken from the garage of Thomas Lyon Melrose, of 8861 Greenview pl. in Spring Valley on March 30.

Melrose, who lives at 8861 Greenview pl., Spring Valley, said the garage door was forced open. The tools were on the metric measure.

2 Grapple Titles At Stake Tuesday

Two professional wrestling titles go to the ropes Tuesday at the S.D. Coliseum.

The American Tag Team title lists Black Gordman and Keith Franks against the Guererro brothers — Chavo and Armando.

A Heavyweight (225 lbs. or more) American title has the Hangman going against Tank Patton.

In a Handicap match, Prof. Tonaka takes on two opponents. If he defeats Tom Jones, he will immediately meet Dynamite Don.

Tommy Seigler grapples with Dr. Death while the opponents in a final match have not been named.

Meanwhile, Roddy Piper, a frisky athlete, has been barred from the Coliseum pending management's study. He had been warned about interfering with wrestlers from a ringside position.

Playoff Time Running Out As Mariners Meet Jets Friday

Game No. 6 of first round playoff action between the S.D. Mariners and the Winnipeg Jets will take place on Friday evening at the Sports Arena. Faceoff is 7:30 p.m. and tickets are available at the Mariners ticket office at the Sports Arena an Ticketron outlets in the San Diego area.

San Diego earned the return trip to the Sports Arena on Friday night with two exciting wins on home ice over the weekend to even the best of seven series at 2-games each.

Saturday evening before 10,108 fans the Mariners came from behind to record a 5-4 victory. Down 3-0 after the first period and 4-2 after two, the local skaters came back with third period goals by Don Burgess, Wayne Rivers and Rick Sentes to record the win.

The game-winning tally by Sentes came from assisting passes from Andre Lacroix and Brent Hughes at the 13:46 mark. Mariner goalie Ken Lockett blocked all 10 Jet shots he faced in the final period with several key saves in the closing minutes.

San Diego still needed a win to even the series last Sunday night and they didn't disappoint a crowd of 9,830 attending. This time the Mariners moved out to a 3-1 first period lead but the Jets roared back in the sceond period and after 40 minutes Winnipeg had tied the game 4-4. The tie held until the 18:50 mark of the third period when Norm Ferguson scored a power play goal and 42 seconds later Keven Devine added an open net score to wrap up the victory for the Mariners, 6-4.

Tony Cassolato, who suffered a badly sprained ankle in Saturday's game is in a cast for at least the rest of this week. The rookie right-winger was injured in third period while attempting a shot.

If a game 7 is needed, it will be played on Sunday evening in Winnipeg.

Shoulder Injury Stops Turner's Spring Scrimmage

Running back David (Deacon) Turner will be missing as S.D. State U. wraps up its fourth week of Spring Football with its final scrimmage of the spring Friday at 7 p.m. in Aztec Bowl on the Aztec campus.

Turner, who gained 982 yards last season for the Aztecs in just over five games and is a definite All-America candidate, suffered a separated shoulder in last week's scrimmage and will be out at least three weeks.

Turner had gained 46 yards on 17 carries in the scrimmage up until he was injured in a scrimmage dominated by the defense. He was hurt lunging for a first down on a third and short yardage situation.

In the race for starting quarterback, freshman Mark Halda struggled in the scrimmage, completing just one of 13 passes for seven yards. He did, however, have four balls dropped. Joe Davis was six of 14 for 60 yards with a long gainer of 20 to tight end Marc Sandall. Chris Schaefer hit on three of six passes for 61 yards, including a 32 yard scamper by Mike Hill on a screen, and Greg Roeszler in his first appearance of the spring didn't complete a ball in four attempts.

1 Pro, 3 Amateurs Win HoC Citations

One professional and three amateur have been recognized by the S.D. Hall of Champions Breitbard Awards Committee as the area's outstanding athletic performers during the month of March and will receive Certificates of Achievement for their accomplishments in diversified fields.

The lone pro athlete to be honored was Joe Noris, who figured prominently in the S.D. Mariners' drive to a berth in WHA playoffs. Reaching peak form in March, the hard-skating center collected seven goals and 16 assists, and one of his scores was a game winner over Winnipeg.

Citations will go to two trackmen, Thom Hunt, former Patrick Henry student now attending U. of Ariz., and Willie Banks, the Oceanside High graduate currently in his third year at UCLA.

Hunt was singled out for taking the junior division title in the world cross-country championship race at Dusseldorf, Germany, reaching the finish 80 yards ahead of Finland's Ari Peunonen, reigning European champ.

Regarded as a ranking U.S. hope in the next Olympics in both the long jump and triple jump, Banks established a new Bruin record in the latter event when he broke his own two-year-old mark with a leap of 55 feet, 2¾ inches.

The other amateur to earn a Certificate of Achievement is Palomar College's Rick Worel, who became the only S.D. County contestant to win a 1977 California State Junior College wrestling crown. The freshman grappler, who won the 158-pound class, finished the season with a 25-1-2 record.

'Work for Welfare' Bill Authored by Bob Wilson

Recipients of the welfare program, Aid to Families with Dependent Children, would be required to work for their AFDC checks under a bill introduced by Senator Bob Wilson (D-La Mesa).

Wilson said his bill would establish a two-year pilot project in San Diego County to test the "work for welfare" approach.

"All AFDC recipients," Wilson explained, "who are not already employed, would be required to work a minimum of 100 hours a month, but not more than 5 hours a day, as a condition of receiving continued public assistance.

"Work projects would be established by state agencies that need employees, in addition to those budgeted, in their San Diego offices. Participants will be assigned to specific work projects and be paid minimum wages."

Wilson emphasized that these jobs would not compete with civil service positions. The work projects would be financed by transferring AFDC aid payments, which normally are paid directly to the welfare recipient, to the agency for use as salaries.

"All able-bodied persons, who are not already employed, should earn their AFDC payments by contributing a portion of their time to working for the people of the county," Wilson said.

Wilson concluded, "State Agencies would benefit from the extra help and welfare recipients would gain from the the work experience."

Sen. Scorns Welfare Study Which Includes Vet's Comp

Veterans Affairs Committee Chairman Alan Cranston (D-Calif) has protested to President Carter a move by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare to label disability payments to veterans as "welfare".

Carter has directed HEW to prepare a comprehensive study of welfare systems to develop reform. HEW plans to include payments to disabled veterans in the study.

"I'm sure he (Carter) did not intend that an HEW study of welfare reform should include the veterans compensation program," said Cranston, "Surely, compensation for the loss or loss of use of a limb in combat is not a form of welfare."

Cranston added to include the veteran's programs in the study "raises grave doubts about the future of the Veterans' Administration in the minds of veterans, their families and survivors, and the veterans' service organizations."

"I fail to see,' he added, "how these programs can be classified as welfare."

Grove Man Gets 20-Year Award

Paul L. Crosby, 2422 Camino de la Palmas, Lemon Grove, celebrates his 20th anniversary as an agent for New York Life Insurance Company this month, according to Robert F. Brown, CLU, general manager of the company's Balboa General Office.

In the 20 years Crosby has been with New York Life, he has been the recipient of many company and industry awards, including the National Quality Award for eight consecutive years. He has now qualified to receive a lifetime income under the company's compensation program for agents.

Crosby is active in civic and community affairs. He is a member of Executives International Business Club and serves in the Boards of Trustees of Pt. Loma College and his local church.

A luncheon for Crosby and his wife, Elaine, was held recently at the Westgate Hotel to mark his anniversary.

Lujan Suffers 1st KO In Thirty-Six Fights

Manuel Lujan, state featherweight champion, lasted only 2 minutes and 22 seconds of the first round against Gerald Hayes, N.Y. state featherweight champ. It was the first time in 36 fights he had been flattened.

Lujan caught a right and a left to the jaw in the waning moments of the round, fell against the ropes and then dropped face down to the canvas. He was able to get up after several minutes under the ministrations of ring doctor William Lundeen. It was a non-title fight.

It was a dejected Lujan in the dressing room, who, for the first time, wouldn't talk to reporters.

It may be Lujan will get in some serious work and fight up to his potential — a condition that has not been noted in recent fights just past.

Lujan went in at 129 pounds with a 33-2-1 record. Hayes, at 127, carries an 8-3 record, a surprisingly short record for a state champion.

Artura Reyes of San Diego got a draw in his 6-round junior lightweight scrap with Scipio Stubbs of San Pedro.

Marv Saunders of LA won a 6-round split decision over Zeferino Gonzales of Chula Vista. They, too were junior middles.

The junior middleweight fight between Bert Lee of Potrero and Larry Mayes of L.A. was cancelled when Myers came in 11 pounds overweight.

A 3-round amateur between two young S.D. boxers was a good scrap.

Promoter Danny Millsap Millsap said that the bi-weekly card on April 29 would pit Iron-Mike Avans against Mike Nixon, two veteran scrappers noted for mixing it.

Nixon, a world rated boxer, is said to be one of the most devastating punchers in boxing and is undefeated in several San Diego fights.

Avans, ex-Golden Gloves champion and present Arizona middleweight king, lost a disputed split decision to Nixon in Las Vegas last year.

The Coliseum is at 15th and E sts. in downtown S.D. First bout is 8:15 p.m.

G'mnt Coach Bets Hair on Baseball

Coach Noel Mickelsen gave his Grossmont College baseball team something to play for last week when he said he'd shave his head if the Griffins could at least split their remaining 10 South Coast Conferences games in 1977.

Since Mickelsen's pep talk, the Griffins have rolled past conference foes Fullerton (11-5) and Santa Ana (6-5) to bring their SCC record to 4-6. The Griffs, who are 13-13-2, are tied with Mt. San Antonio, Santa Ana and San Diego Mesa for the No. 3 spot in the seven-team conference.

Grossmont is scheduled to face San Diego Mesa Tuesday on the Olympians' field before returning home to host SCC-leading Orange Coast Thursday and second place Cerritos on Saturday. The two weekday games begin at 2:30 p.m., while the Saturday contest begins at noon.

Mickelsen made his bold statement after the Griffins had bowed to Mira Costa, 14-12, in a nonconference game last Tuesday. The Griffins pounded out 19 hits in that loss, but five errors led to five unearned runs for the Spartans.

Grossmont collected 16 hits in its win over Fullerton and the Griffins won Saturday's game from Santa Ana as Chris Jones cracked a two-out, two-run triple in the bottom of the ninth.

Sophomore rightfielder Dan Dixon continues to lead the Griffins in hitting this spring with a .385 mark. He's batting .429 through the first 10 conference games.

As a team, the Griffins have a .326 batting mark against conference pitching. However, the club's team pitching earned run average in conference play is 7.01.

In addition, the Griffins have hurt their cause by allowing 32 unearned runs in conference action.

Chief Kolender Heads Aztec's '77 Fund Drive

William B. Kolender, Chief of Police in San Diego, has been named Chairman of the 1977 Aztec Athletic Foundation Fund Drive. Kolender, a graduate of S.D. State U., will oversee the massive community effort aimed at financially supporting the Aztec athletic program.

Kolender officially kicks off the Fund Drive on April 25 with a 3-night volunteer phone effort.

The 1977 goal will be $250,000. During 1976, the Aztecs raised over $171,000 in private fund support.

"Our Fund Drive should be very successful because of the many positive aspects of the Aztec program," Kolender. "The move to the Western Athletic Conference, the construction industry project and the successful teams are all positive factors."

Kolender indicated that the thrust of the fund drive would be during May and June, but that the staff and key volunteers of the Foundation would continue to seek contributions throughout the year.

Aztec Athletic Foundation President, Ken Golden, said, "We're pleased that Bill can assume this major task for us. He's well known and well respected in the community. Bill's association with us is a big plus, and we fully expect he will help us set a new Aztec fund raising record."

If you're looking for extra money, have a look around the house.

If you've owned your home for even a few years, chances are you've got a lot more borrowing power than you think you have.

How much more? Depending on your ability to repay, you may be able to obtain a Bank of America Home Equity Loan for up to 80% of the Bank's appraised value of your home, less whatever you still owe. Loans from $5,000 to $25,000 are available at an annual percentage rate of 12%. Your loan is secured by a second deed of trust on your house and you can repay the loan in equal instalments over a period of five to fifteen years. The finance charge is calculated on a simple interest basis. And there is no penalty for prepayment. You can pay off your loan at any time — and the sooner you do, the lower the total amount of interest you will pay.

Your home can provide the funds for a wide range of worthwhile purposes. You may even combine several purposes in one loan.

The accompanying chart shows typical examples of repayment schedules for a variety of Bank of America Home Equity Loan amounts and terms.

A Home Equity Loan is a serious responsibility, one you should consider carefully. Kindergarten Registration Underway in Spring Valley

Currently underway is registration for kindergarten in the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District for the 1977-78 school year.

Associate Superintendent David D. Pascoe said registration will be on a first come, first served basis at local schools Monday through Friday.

"It is important to pupils, parents, and the school to register as soon as possible in order to ensure kindergarten placement at the nearest school," Pascoe said, "No child will be denied kindergarten; however, there have been occasions when placement has had to be away from the home or neighborhood school."

To enter kindergarten, State law requires a child to be five years old on or before December 2. Verification of birth, baptism certificate, a passport, or an affidavit must be presented.

Immunization for polio, red measles, diphtheria, and tenanus plus boosters along with a physical exam within six months are required. Also a verification of the language spoken at home is required.

Enrollment forms are available at the District office, 4750 Date ave., La Mesa, phone: 469-6171, ext 33 or 34.

Service Award Made To W. R. 'Bob' Sanders

W. Robert Sanders, counselor at Mt. Miguel High school, has been presented an Honorary Service Award by the school PTSA.

Sanders was selected for his involvement in school and community affairs over the past 20 years.

A former Little League coach, he is past president of the school Boosters' Club, has served as chairman of the school Human Relations Committee, and been a leader in community fund-raising for a swimming pool on the Mt. Miguel campus.

Officers elected to serve the PTSA for next year are Barbara Myers, president; Gladys Stewart and Millie Hernandez, vice-presidents; Bobbi Lukacik, secretary; Sandy Samson, treasurer; Jane O'Neil, historian, and Craig O'Neil auditor.

The Cruel Ban On Saccharin

By U.S. Senator S. I. Hayakawa

On March 9 the Food and Drug Administration announced its intention to ban the use of saccharin as a sweetener, effective July 1. Immediately I began to receive a flood of letters from people for whom life without artificial sweeteners would be a genuine hardship.

A Berkeley man writes: "My wife has hypoglycemia, a blood sugar disorder. Artificial sweetners are necessary for her to control her weight due to this imbalance."

Mr. Gosnell of North Long Beach says: "I am of a family that traces diabetic origins maternally to the 19th century. I am age 46 and have myself been diabetic over 25 years . . .

"My wife is a naturalized American from Korea and I have assumed responsibility for support of her family . . . so I must earn a living and assume a reasonably normal productive lifestyle to do this. Although it may seem a small matter, I depend on artificial sweetners to bridge the gap between living as a diabetic and living a normal lifestyle with diabetic adjustments."

The availability of saccharin is not, as some may imagine, a simple matter of whether or not you can get Tab and Diet Pepsi. There are people for whom it is felt to be a matter of life and death.

A letter from San Diego: "With the help of many products containing saccharin I have lost 64 pounds. I am still to lose 100 pounds or I will surely die. I am 34 years old and I am doing everything in my power to avoid early death. One thing I have done is to quit smoking. Smoking can cause cancer . . . There is no evidence that saccharin has ever caused a single case of cancer in a human being."

The taste of sweets has an importance totally apart from their nutritional value. In our culture parents reward their children with sweets and punish them by their denial.

Children need love. They wither without it. The taste of sweet things is an assurance of love that a child needs, even when for medical reasons he cannot have sugar.

A letter from John Suing of Weed, California, is especially poignant:

"We have two diabetic boyh and they have few luxuries with regard to the food they can eat . . . Meals are the high point in a diabetic's day, and we try to make it as pleasant and enjoyable as we can for our boys. When we top a meal off with a sugar-free drink as a real treat to them, they feel just like those of us who are not diabetic and they forget for a few minutes that they have a disease for which there is no cure."

There are many reasons besides diabetes that require people to maintain a sugar-free diet. For people in this condition saccharin is a harmless sweetener, nutritionally negligible but psychologically necessary. With cyclamates also banned, the banning of saccharin leaves the dieter nothing to fall back on.

For these reasons I have introduced emergency legislation, S. 1034, to postpone the ban on saccharin for three years and to institute further research on the subject. I am also preparing legislation to modify the Delaney Amendment of the Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act, under the terms of which the ban was ordered.

Stone joined San Diego Trust in 1976 and has served as installment loan administrator for the Mission Hills Office.

VFW Juniors

The Junior Girls' Unit to the Ladies Auxiliary of Mission Valley VFW Post No. 3787 elected Joy Otis as president during elections held April 9 at the Post home.

On agenda for her is directing the preparation of breakfast at the Post home the third Sunday of the month.

Miguel Class of '78 Host Ice Cream Social

The Class of '78 at Mount Miguel High School is hosting an Ice Cream Social tomorrow night 7-10 p.m. in the Mount Miguel cafeteria, 1800 Sweetwater rd., Spring Valley.

Class president Vic Salazar said there will be entertainment, raffles for prizes donated by local merchants, and of course, ice cream sundaes ranging in price for 20 cents to $1.25.

Proceeds go to activities of the Class of '78 during the school year.

S.V. Women Win 21 Awards

Spring Valley women made an impressive showing at the annual awards banquet of Southern District no. 26, California Federation of Women's Clubs held April 13 at the Town and Country Convention Center.

The Spring Valley Woman's Club was presented with 21 first place awards, two second place, and two participation awards from the different categories.

WestPac Veterans Plan May Meeting

All veterans who served in the defense of the Philippine Islands in World War II are invited to participate in the American Defenders of Bataan and Corregidor 32nd annual convention at El Cortez hotel May 1 through 8.

The convention is expected to draw approximately 1,000 survivors and their families of the battles of Corregidor, the so-called March of Death on the Bataan Peninsula and subsequent imprisonment.

Survivors recall with horror the months and years of hunger, thirst and diseases, that followed the surrender in 1942; many still suffer from the aftermath and the death rate among these men is probably the highest in the nation.

The American Defenders of Bataan organization, however, considers the governmental help insufficient and asks for public support.

PUC Dumps Wasteful Gas Rate System

LOS ANGELS — The California Public Utilities Commission is cracking down on the old system of charging more for using less natural gas.

The PUC recommended new prohibitions on such things as natural gas swimming pool heaters and proposed a new rate structure that rewarded natural gas users with reduced rates when they conserve.

"This new rate system completely reverses the old plan of high rates for small use," said PUC Commissioner Leonard Ross, "Instead, we will be rewarding conservation and discouraging waste."

The idea is to discourage recreational use of natural gas while reducing the rates for those who stay within "lifeline quantities".

Sups Sue Fed Agency

The County of S.D. has filed a lawsuit against the Secretary of the Interior to halt the ongoing process for leasing off coast tracts to oil companies, according to Jim Bates, chairman of the SD County Board of Supervisors.

The County contends that an environmental impact statement should have been processed before tract selection for exploratory and production drilling was made.

Cities of the region, the Comprehensive Planning Organization, the Coastal Commission and the Attorney General will be asked to join as parties in the lawsuit.

Cherchez la Neighbor

A gold Yamaha trumpet, worth $150 and two piggy banks with about $8 in them were taken from the home of Brenda Joyce Wake, 1415 El Prado, Lemon Grove.

Deputies responding to her call observed that the bedroom window had been broken by the burglar and that other items had been left untouched.

She reported the burglary shortly after she returned home and found the items to have been taken. There was no evidence neighbors had complained of trumpet-playing.

Change in Beach Run

The Carlsbad Spring-Holiday Beach-Run has changed its starting time from 3 p.m. to 9 a.m. Sunday, the Carlsbad Chamber of Commerce announced.

Registration will be at 7:30 a.m. at the Tamarack Beach portion of the Carlsbad State Beach. The 4½-mile-run is open to men and women of all ages. Registration fee is $2.50.

Fifth in Series

Welfare and Institutions Code Have Provisions for Children

(Editor's note: This is the fifth installment of an eight part series on child abuse by State Attorney General Evelle J. Younger. Due to space with recent election campaigns the column resumes. The fourth in the series was published in the February 17 editions of the Lemon Grove Review and Spring Valley Bulletin.)

The Welfare and Institutions Code has provisions regarding child abuse as does the Penal Code.

Section 600 of the Welfare and Institutions Code provides that:

"Any person under the age of 18 years who comes within any of the following descriptions is within the jurisdiction of the juvenile court which may adjudge such person to be a dependent child of the court.

"(a) Who is in need of proper and effective parental care or control and has no parent or guardian, or has no parent or guardian willing to exercise or capable of exercising such care or control, or has no parent or guardian actually exercising such care or control.

"(b) Who is destitute, or who is not provided with the necessities of life, or who is not provided with a home or suitable place of abode.

"(c) Who is physically dangerous to the public because of a mental or physical deficiency, disorder or abnormality.

"(d) Whose home is an unfit place for him by reason of neglect, cruelty, depravity or physical abuse of either of his parents, or of his guardian or other person in whose custody or care he is."

Under these provisions, in order to protect a child under 18 from further abuse or neglect, a police officer may, without a warrant, take a child into temporary protective custody.

The officer may transport the child to either a hospital or special holding facility with or without parental consent if abuse is suspected. Within 48 hours of taking a child into such protective custody, a petition must be filed with the juvenile court to declare the child a dependent child of the court. The petition is usually filed by the county welfare department, although in some counties the probation department may still retain this function.

A copy of the petition is sent to the parents, guardian or other person having care or custody of the child. (A dependency petition may also be filed without taking the child into protective custody first.)

A jurisdictional hearing in juvenile court is held within a 15 to 30 day period, and the judge then decides if the child indeed comes within the description of a dependent child of the court as set forth in Section 600 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

If the court finds that the minor is such a person, a disposition hearing, and the court then may make ". . . any and all reasonable orders for the care, supervision, custody, maintenance, and support of such minor including medical treatment, subject to further order of the court." (Section 727, Welfare and Institutions Code).

If a child is declared a dependent of the juvenile court, the court may order the child to remain at home under supervision of the welfare department (or probation department depending on the county), or may take custody from the parents and order the child placed. The taking of custody is a temporary action subject to later review (at least annually).

There are no adult penalties attached to juvenile court decisions; however, the possibility that the child may be taken away, or that criminal charges for abuse may be filed in adult court, tends to influence parents to cooperate at the juvenile court level.

Children found to be dependent of the court but who are not reunited with their parents are usually placed in foster care or shelter facilities. Periodic hearings by the juvenile court determine when and if parents may regain custody of their child. A formal hearing must be held at least once a year for each child.

3R's First

Dear Editor:

The Chacon-Moscone Assembly Bill AB 139 has appropiated MILLIONS of taxpayer's money to implement bilingual/bicultural education in the public schools.

Isn't this the United States, where we are supposed to learn English first? What is going on here, anyway? Isn't it a waste of money to teach these children a language they already know? This is ridiculous and unnecessary!

Teachers should spend their time teaching the 3 R's. When I came to this country from Germany, I learned the English language without any help from the government. This money could be used for more constructive purposes in which ALL Americans would benefit, such as medical research and new sources of energy, etc. and financial security for the elderly.

Please print this to inform the public. Thank you.

EDD Correction Listed

The California Employment Development Department corrects a misconception by many of the area's jobless that their benefits would be terminated March 26.

Congress has recently extended the third extension of unemployment compensation to run through April 30 thus permitting an extra five weeks of benefits.

Claimants should check with the local EDD office, 151 Van Houten ave., El Cajon, 440-4232, for eligibility.

Help Coming In 30 Days

Hayakawa Rep Promises Action On Citizens Complaints of Gov't

"They told me I had two eyes, two arms, two legs, and two ears, I must not be disabled," Jack Stark of 1346 E. Main, El Cajon, told James G. McKinney, Field representative for Senator S. I. Hayakawa in Lemon Grove last Thursday, "They said I would not be eligible for social security."

Stark was one who came to Lemon Grove's Office of Government Information at 7733 Palm ave. to petition California's junior senator for help.

Stark told Field Rep McKenney he had provided the Social Security officials in El Cajon five different sets of medical reports and each time the officials managed to lose them.

Stark said finally, after taking the government to court, winning the battle, the Social Security Administration agreed they owed him some $5,000 in back benefit payments.

But the government still had the last laugh. Stark received, some two years after he became eligible, at his postal box in Lemon Grove a check for $2,000, addressed to Lemon Grove, Georgia, and sporting a Santa Ana zip code.

"I'm hung out to dry for some $4,500 and I can't get any government official to realize I exist," said Stark "Civil servants assume the attitude that they are the gods. They feel they are the kings. We had a rebellion in 1776 to get rid of nobility — now we have created a new nobility—the federal bureaucracy."

Another case involving the same Social Security officials in El Cajon, Mrs. Mary Ann Oblney, 522 E. Main, El Cajon told McKenney the Social Securing Administration refused to pay her some $5,200 awarded to her.

"It's our money they take out of our paychecks all of our lives," said Mrs. Oblney.

McKenney said he would relay the problems with the El Cajon Social Security Office to Senator Hayakawa in Washington and they would be corrected within 30 days.

"When the bank makes a mistake they answer to you," McKenney told the citizens, "When government makes a mistake they answer to no one."

McKenney said the Senator has a liaison that will take the problems directly to the Social Security Administration and clear them up.

He said also he would ask if the Senator might sponsor legislation in the future that would give recipients whose checks are held up minimum interest rates.

"The government makes a lot of mistakes," McKenney said, "Maybe giving people like Mrs. Oblney and Mr. Stark interest on the money the government owes them, it might serve as a deterrent to those mistakes."

McKenney is stationed here in San Diego at 880 Front st. yet will continue to hold informal sessions with citizens in their home towns. His downtown office number is 239-7100.

Building Permits Gain

Building permits issued in S.D. County rose from 1,612 in March 76 to 2,074 in March 77, constituting a value increase from $39,161,087 to $42,-715.669.

Dwelling units accounted for 954 of the total figure for March, a slight decrease in comparison to March 76's dwelling unit figure of 1,044.

'Bank' Robbed

Betty Jean King had permitted several customers of Cuz Inn to use the phone in the cafe's kitchen during the evening of April 7.

In the kitchen, a floor mat, was a floor safe which was left unlocked so that the contents could be used for change.

About 10:30 p.m., when manager King went to the "bank" for change — it was bare. She hurriedly called the cafe's owner, who in turn, called sheriff's deputies. All agreed that the money was gone. The loss was said to be $310.

Denture Makers Want to Deal With Wearers

The Denturists Assn. of California, (D.A.C.) in open defiance of opposition from the California Dental Assn., is seeking legislation and licensing which would make denturism legal in California.

Deturnism is the practice by which the public can deal directly with trained technicians in obtaining dentures and denture services.

At present, state law prohibits such services on the grounds that prosthetics are parts of the practice of densistry, and can be provided only by qualified dentists.

Denturists oppose this viewpoint. They claim that the preparation of dentures is not a medical procedure, but a technical craft, and that denturism is both legal and accepted in many countries throughout the world.

These countries include Canada, Great Britain, Ireland, France, Germany, Italy, Denmark, Switzerland, Holland, Australia, South Africa, Argentina, Venezuela, and others.

"The fitting and fabrication of dentures essentially is a mechanical process involving technical skills, not medical skills," says Gerson Ribnick, executive director of D.A.C.

"The average cost of fabricating a denture in California is about $80, yet the patient frequently is charged up to $600 when the dentist's professional fees are added," said Ribnick.

"In my opinion, the fitting of an $80 denture does not require eight years of college, a degree in dentistry, an attractive dental assistant, and a fully-automated, $7,000 dental chair," he said.

"By the time the dentist adds the cost of his education, training, and experience, plus the overhead expenses involved in maintaining elaborate dental facilities, staff, and equipment, the consumer pays between $150 to $200 an hour for professional services."

Since the concept of denturism is new to California, D.A.C. is attempting to educate the public on the distinctions between a dentist and a denturist.

Inner Tube Races Set For Mission Bay

Inner tube paddlers have a chance to compete against each other in Mission Bay Associates first annual inner tube race held along Crown Point Shores this coming June.

There will be two categories of race entries.

The first is the "Super Splash" division which will pit "people powered" inner tubes against each other. No paddles, oars or mechanical devices will be allowed. Groups may enter together but teams can consist of no more than eight tubes.

The second division is the "Thunder Tube" category. Here, tubes may be propelled by paddles, oars, or any non-motorized mechanical device. Deck constructions above the water line are permitted but the basic floatation must be of inner tube. No motors or sails are permitted.

Entrants must be 13 years of age, be able to swim, and wear a life jacket.

Entry blanks and rules may be obtained at the Mission Bay Associates office at Vacation Village Hotel or at the Visitor Information Center off Highway 5 in Mission Bay Park. Mission Bay Associates phone number is 276-2800.

If You Believe You've Been Cheated

This column features a series of consumer protection advisories prepared as a public service by the California Trial Lawyers Association to warn consumers of some of the hazards of business dealings.

Consumers are urged to write CTLA for their Consumer Protection Pamphlet which tells "How Not to Be Cheated and Who to Contact If You Are."

Californians who believe they have been "ripped off" by sellers of goods and services are speaking their minds to state government officials, according to Assemblyman Peter R. Chacon.

The State Department of Consumer Affairs is responsible for hearing, investigating, and taking action on grievances involving businesses and licensed professionals.

Last year, the Department received over 69,000 complaints which ultimately resulted in hundreds of disciplinary actions filed against violators of state laws and regulations.

34 consumer boards, bureaus and commissions within the Department regulate a vast array of businesses and professions from accountants, auto mechanics, collection agencies, building contractors, employment agencies, funeral directors and tax preparers to a number of "healing arts" specialists including acupuncturists, veterinarians, optometrists, and nurses.

Range is Wide

Some of the cases acted on this past month illustrate the wide range of activities regulated by the Consumer Boards, Chacon said. A summary of all the disciplinary actions taken by the Department is published each month.

For example, in the month of February, an auto repair garage in Santa Clara County was shutdown for 30 days after its employees failed to produce written estimates of work and exceeded estimated charges without first obtaining customers' consent.

Last month, a Los Angeles veterinarian was placed on probation after it was determined he had not maintained sanitary animal living areas and failed to keep adequate treatment records.

Following charges of disregarding specifications, failing to complete a job as contracted and at agreed prices, and willfully violating building codes, a Solano County building contractor's license was revoked.

Easy Filing

Filing complaints with the Department of Consumer Affairs is relatively simple. A letter outlining the specific problem together with copies of whatever documentation might prove helpful to Department investigators should be sent to the appropriate regulatory Board.

The Board's staff will review and investigate the complaint, and if they find the charges constitute serious violation of rules, regulations or laws, they will then recommend disciplinary action to be taken against the violator.

Consumer affairs officials emphasize, however, that Californians should make every effort to settle their differences with business people on an individual basis before referring the matter to the state.

More information regarding the Department's handling of complaints can be obtained by contacting the Department of Consumer Affairs, 1020 N st., Room 588, Sacramento, 95814, or by contacting Chacon's Office at 5106 Federal blvd., Suite 207, San Diego, 92105, or telephone 263-2148.

Decals Replace Mobilehome Tags

Those large, roomy mobilehomes that hardly look like "vehicles" as they rest more or less permanently in a park no longer have to display the vehicle license plates that sometimes mar their residential decor.

They are being replaced by a new, more attractive and less conspicious decal.

Under the newly-implemented law, all mobilehomes which are in excess of eight-feet in width or 40-feet in length will be issued a decal in lieu of a license plate upon being registered for the first time.

Owners of large presently registered mobilehomes who want to replace their license plates with decals may do so at the time of registration renewal for an extra $3. Dept. of Motor Vehicles handles the registration.

"Many mobilehomes are about as large as conventional homes and should have a pleasant-looking form of registration identification rather than an unsightly license plate. The new decals are smaller, more attractive and when properly placed, easily visible.

"As these mobilehomes are rarely moved, there's no real need for a license plate," D.M.V. spokesmen said.

The decals will make it easier for DMV investigators who make periodic checks of the 349,000 mobilehomes in the state to verify registration because the decals must be placed on the front of the trailer.

Rodeo is Fund-Raiser

A fund-raising rodeo will be held at the Lakeside Rodeo Arena at Highway 67 and Mapleview Saturday at 2 p.m. and 7 p.m. and Sunday, 2 p.m.

Saddle bronc riding, bull wrestling, a wild horse race and many other events will be featured during the rodeo. Proceeds will go to the El Capitan Stadium Assn. to build athletic facilities for El Capitan High School in East County.

Tickets range from $50 for a 6-seat box to $3.50 general admission and are available in some Santee stores and at the arena's gate.

May Safety Month Is CHP Plea for Voluntary 55

May has been designated 55 M.P.H. Compliance Month and is part of a special month-long traffic safety campaign in California and four other western states.

Captain C. M. Douglas, Commander of the California Highway Patrol's El Cajon office made the announcement locally last week and explain the idea was to "encourage voluntary compliance by every driver."

"The significance of the 55 mph limit has been overlooked by many, and we are making the point that during California's three year's of experience with 55 mph as maximum, 908 lives have been saved because of reduced highway speeds," said Douglas.

The theme of the campaign is "Teaming with you for safety and the CHP Captain said his offices wish to team with the motoring public to achieve 55 mph compliance to produce safer motoring for everybody.

"We are asking all drivers to get the 55 habit," Douglas reiterated, "for the premanent restoration of voluntary compliance with 55 mph."

G'mont Movie Shows Amputee, Blind Skiers

Grossmont Community College will show a remarkable film of blind and amputee skiers in recent competition at the National Handicapped Ski Racing Championship held in Alpine Meadows.

The movie will be shown in the College's Office of Community Education, College Grove Shopping Center at 2 and 7 p.m. April 27.

The skiing competition was sponsored by the National Inconvenienced Sportsmen's Association and included giant slalom and downhill races.

The amputee skiers even coached the blind skiers down the slopes.

The movie is free.

Air Fares Going Up

Following the lead of Air California, the three major air carriers announced April 12 their fares will be going up an average of 1.76 per cent in the next 30 days.

The California Public Utilities Commission has given the nod to Pacific Southwest, United, and TWA to raise one-way coach fares to offset higher costs accrued for jet fuel.

Lesser Limit Viewed For Unroofed Patios

The County Board of Supervisors will hold a public hearing April 27 to consider a proposed change in the Zoning Ordinance that would allow unroofed patios to extend farther than the present three foot limit.

The present zoning laws require that patios extending more than three feet into a rear yard must have a roof. The proposed amendment to the ordinance would allow unroofed patios to extend as close to the rear lot line as the distance required for a side yard in the zone in which the lot is located.

The hearing will be held at 2 p.m. in Room 310 of the County Administration Center, 1600 Pacific Highway, in San Diego.

Copies of the amendment are available in Room 306 of the County Administration Center or in the office of the Department of Land Use and Environmental Regulation, Room 203, 9150 Chesapeake drive in San Diego. LUER's telephone is 565-5853. Marvin Jones will answer questions.

Those wishing to obtain advice of how to organize a presentation for this hearing may contact the County's Office of Citizen's Assistance at 236-2742.

Credit Cards Okay for Fair Animal Bidders

Credit cards will be acceptable for purchasing animals at the Junior Livestock Auction to be held July 1 during the 88th annual S. Cal Expo at Del Mar. Expo dates June 21 through July 4.

For several hundred young livestock exhibitors in Future Farmers of America and 4-H Clubs, the auction is the principal means for financing their projects, Frank Whitton, who heads the Expo's auction committee, noted.

Bank Americards will be acceptable for purchasing lambs, swine and beef, Whitton said. The bank has agreed to waive a three percent service charge so that the young sellers will receive maximum return for their animals.

The sale will be limited to blue ribbon winners in an effort to make it easier to conduct. In 1976, a record 758 animals went on the block and it took more than 12 hours to conduct the sale. It produced $231,000 in revenue.

This year, the auction will start at 11 a.m. with lambs and swine being sold first. Beef sales will start at 6 p.m.

In Auto Class

Larry G. Jourden of Spring Valley will start training as an automotive technician at the Universal Technical Institute in Phoenix in August and is expected to be graduated in June 1978. Jourden will finish his studies at Mt. Miguel High School this year.

Bank Makes $2 Million

California First Bank earned a net income of $2,824,000 for the quarter ending March 31. This represents a 23 per cent increase over net income of $2,299,000 reported last year.
